VOL. 92 NO. 3 MONTHLY

MARCH 2016

March Madness, Countercultural Christianity, the Vigil of Easter, and More

It happened this way last year, too. March Madness, NCAA basketball's big drama, careening into the Church's most holy season, Holy Week and the Easter Triduum.

Seems it didn't affect our congregation much, though. Attendance at all Holy Week services, which handily fell on those days when March Madness was in full swing—Thursday, Friday, and Saturday—held solid.

Even as you fill out your brackets this year, keep in mind that we Christians commemorate a far greater drama that week than the underdog team making the Final Four—the agony of the apparent defeat on the Cross and the glory of the victory of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus.

"Countercultural." Something of a buzzword, but it's the label you'd attach to being here at 8:00 p.m. on the Vigil of Easter instead of at the local watering hole for the Final Four match-up du jour. This year once again we anticipate a rich Vigil as we witness the drama of the Lord's salvation culminating in the resurrection of Jesus from the dead.

Coming off the golden decades of the heyday of the Church in North America, it's probably difficult to realize that for the vast majority of its 2,000-year existence authentic Christianity has always been countercultural. That is, Christianity has always held forth a way of believing, thinking, speaking, and acting that's significantly different from the prevailing culture. The irruption of March Madness in Holy Week only exposes the great rift between the culture of Christ and His Church and the culture of the world.

Increasingly, though, Christians will be called upon to make consciously countercultural decisions—to hallow the divinely sacred when the culture around us bows to the profane gods of its own making (Ps. 115:5). This is what Paul had in mind when he exhorted the Corinthians to "keep the festival...in sincerity and truth" (1 Cor. 5:8).

Of course, sincerity and truth begins with the recognition that it is Christ who has purged away the old leaven—rescued us from the "evil counsels and purposes of the devil, the world, and our own sinful flesh that do not want us to hallow God's name or let His kingdom come." We enjoy the Easter Vigil only through faith in the Son of God, who was delivered over to death on account of our transgressions and raised again on account of our justification (Rom. 4:25).

The Paid in Full capital campaign is in full swing now. I hope everyone gets the double-entendre in the campaign's title. If not, Holy Week will certainly drive it home. "It is finished," Christ said from the Holy Cross. And then He bowed His head and gave up His spirit (John 19:30). The Greek word He uses there, τετέλεσται [tetélestai], was the ancient equivalent of a big red "PAID IN FULL" stamp on a bill. Christ has "paid in full" our debt of sin. That alone is our motivation, reason, ground, impetus, and drive to invest in the continued vitality of the ministry at St. John's and work together to make our financial debt "paid in full."

---

Of course, Scripture is full of talk like this, e.g., "We love because He first loved us" (1 John 4:19). Or, as it's put somewhere else, "What do you have that you did not also receive?" (1 Cor. 4:7).

---

Speaking of what you've received. What you, as a Christian, do with your resources—that's also countercultural.

But then again, as a Christian you actually believe the word of the Cross, which is "foolishness to those who are perishing; but to us who are being saved it is the power of God" (1 Cor. 1:18). That's countercultural, too.

---

You can get even more of the word of the Cross during Lent. Join us Wednesdays at 12:15 or 7:00 p.m. "The Hand of the Lord Has Done It" is the overarching theme of this year's sermon series.

And don't forget to keep in your prayers our call process for an associate pastor. You have through 6 March to submit names to the call committee for consideration.

---

I hope you like this experiment with a new format of the "front-page article." There's always so much to say. Devoting the entire space to just one topic seems gratuitous. Not only that, but word on the street is that our attention spans are getting shorter (chalk it up to our culture). You can always write and let us know what you think. We covet your thoughts. We encourage you to continue to use these envelopes until the pledge date for the Paid in Full campaign, 1 May 2016. Any gifts received during this period will help toward our ultimate goal of raising enough to retire our debt in May 2019. The Board thanks you for your prayerful consideration of this request.

THE MISSION OF THE CHURCH

[Jesus said] “Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you.”

Matthew 28:19–20a So that we may obtain faith in Christ, God instituted the ministry of teaching the gospel and administering the sacraments. Through the gospel and sacraments, as through means, God gives the Holy Spirit who produces faith, where and when He wills, in those who hear the gospel. The Augsburg Confession, Article 5.
