DYING IN CHRIST

Rebekah and I were recently watching something on YouTube where an Anglican priest in England was reacting with some friends to various memes pertaining to Christianity. During the video, a more serious question was brought up about death and the Christian hope. It was interesting to hear the response of the priest as he tried to give an answer about how Christians should “deal with” and talk about death. He brought up, rightly, how there is a trend even among Christians to deflect talks about death and rework our vocabulary with things like “celebrations of life.” Sadly, after he made this point, he entered a more psychological approach than one which proclaimed the gospel and the victory over death we have in Christ.

The point is still a valid one, however, and one we as Lutherans are particularly equipped to give answer to in the world around us. Death is terrible. Part of being a theologian of the cross is that we call a thing for what it is and not try to deflect the blow. Death is terrible and not a natural thing as we consider that God who is the Life and the very source of life created man to live. Even Jesus cried at the death of his friend, Lazarus, in John 11:35. Yet a few verses earlier Jesus said to Martha, “I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never die” (John 11:25–26).

As Christians, God calls us to know and see death for what it truly is, a result of the fall into sin. In Romans 5:12, God through St. Paul teaches us, “Therefore, just as sin came into the world through one man, and death through sin, and so death spread to all men because all sinned.” Sin and death go together. Knowing this we face death head on as only Christians can do because we know the only answer, consolation, comfort, and peace in response to sin and death, Jesus. “For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.”

There are no mincing words when it comes to death and no amount of putting it out of sight and out of mind will change it. It is tragic when one faces death apart from Christ because apart from him there is only everlasting condemnation and hell. Another tragedy is when we want to take Christ out of our dealing and experience death and think we can repackage it in such a way as to soften the blow or just focus on the “positive” and “happy things.”

One of the great blessings of our services is how well they teach and confess the faith even in the saddest of times. The Funeral Service in Lutheran Service Book begins, after the Invocation, with placing a pall on the casket while the pastor and congregation speak responsively the words of Romans 6:3–5. With those words, the people gathered, listen, and speak this wonderful proclamation of what this dear brother or sister in Christ who has died has now even in death. Not only that, but it is a confession of the dearly departed saint of his or her baptism and life in Christ that God had graciously given to him or her. These words ring out: “Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him by baptism into death, in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we too might walk in newness of life. For if we have been united with him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his.”

Christians mourn our loved ones who have died in the faith, and this is good and proper to do. Yet in our mourning there is great hope. God once again teaches us in 1 Thessalonians 4 about how we view death and our mourning as those who belong to Christ. “But we do not want you to be uninformed, brothers, about those who are asleep, that you may not grieve as others do who have no hope. For since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so, through Jesus, God will bring with him those who have fallen asleep” (1 Thessalonians 4:13–14).

Christ has paid the price for our sin atoning for it by his perfectly obedient life and his death as the sacrificial spotless Lamb in our place. Risen from the dead, the Father proclaims to us that we now stand righteous before his throne. Baptized into Christ we share in this death and resurrection and look forward to that day when our bodies will rise from our graves just as Jesus is risen and lives. It is in this work of Jesus that we find consolation and, in our baptism, find comfort knowing that we have what our Lord has accomplished and has graciously given it to us.

Elements like the Bible verses above and so many other things along with the readings and good faithful hymns are reasons why a Christian funeral in the church is such an important thing. It is for those who are still here on this side of the grave, to be sure, but it is also a confession of faith of the one who died (which is one reason why funerals in the church are done for those who confessed this faith faithfully in this congregation). Christians don’t shy away from facing death rather we hold before our eyes to Christ and confess him as he and he alone is the “Resurrection and the Life.”

As this Lent goes on and gets closer to Good Friday take to heart all these things. On Good Friday, Jesus died. The Hymn, “O Darkest Woe” (LSB 448) in stanza two says, “O sorrow dread! Our God is dead, upon the cross extended. There his love enlivened us as his life was ended.” God died on the cross, yet this was for us so that by his death we have life. Those cries of woe are turned to cries of “Alleluia! Christ is risen!” on Easter morning. Our song of sorrow becomes, “Awake, my heart, with gladness, see what today is done; now, after gloom and sadness, comes forth the glorious sun. My Savior there was laid where our bed must be made when to the realms of light our spirit wings its flight” (LSB 467 stanza 1).

Our Lord has won the day and the day is coming when death will be no more. “The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ” (1 Corinthians 15:56–57). We face death as a defeated enemy in Jesus, and know what we have baptized into him. Call a thing for what it is, death is terrible and at the same time call a thing what is, death has been defeated, our sin is forgiven, and we have eternal life.

Death, you cannot end my gladness:
I am baptized into Christ!
When I die, I leave all sadness
To inherit paradise!
Though I lie in dust and ashes
Faith’s assurance brightly flashes:
Baptism has the strength divine
To make life immortal mine.

There is nothing worth comparing
To this lifelong comfort sure!
Open-eyed my grave is staring
Even there I’ll sleep secure.
Though my flesh awaits its raising,
Still my soul continues praising:
I am baptized into Christ;
I’m a child of paradise!        LSB 594 sts. 4–5

Your brother and servant in Christ,
Pastor Wright

HYMN OF THE MONTH “CHRIST, THE LIFE OF ALL THE LIVING” (LSB 420)

There are many good, solid hymns the children of our church love, and “Christ, the Life of All the Living” is certainly one of them! It is one that we will be singing during our Sunday School openings, and I would encourage you to memorize this as well. Each stanza ends with the same phrase, “Thousand, thousand thanks shall be, dearest Jesus, unto Thee,” which is especially easy for the little kids to chime in.

“Christ the Life of All the Living” is a hymn that encompasses the details surrounding Christ’s suffering and crucifixion. Thus, it is a hymn we typically sing during the Lenten season, especially as we get closer to Holy Week. (Suggestion: even just reading the hymn stanzas offers a great way to meditate on Christ’s suffering and death in our place.) It is a hymn that cuts to the core of what Christ really went through on our behalf, but it also brings great “comfort in [our] anguish” that our “doom should be prevented” on account of Christ.

Ernst Christoph Homburg (1607-81) wrote his hymn as a response to his recent conversion from an increasingly secular life that was beginning to trouble him. This hymn brings a more “personal” depth to it and thus is especially useful for meditation. The phrase at the end of each stanza offers thanks to our Savior for His bitter sufferings and is derived from 1 Corinthians 15:57, “Thanks be to God who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.”

The first phrase in this hymn (stanza 1) recognizes Christ as the “life of all the living” and “death of death, our foe.” Christ needed to die in order to defeat death by rising again, thus securing eternal life for us. The second stanza describes Jesus taking upon the pain of the “bonds and stripes, a cruel rod” to deliver us from the “bonds of sin forever.” And, in stanza 3, He was wounded in order that our “wounds might all be whole” and to give rest to our weary soul. Jesus bore the curse of sin and the disgrace of suffering (stanza 4) in order to exalt us and crown us with heavenly glory.

Even as Jesus was “sad and lonely” (stanza 3) and endured the rejection of His people, His disciples leaving Him, and the curse of God, He bore it patiently. Even as He was falsely accused (see also Psalm 27:12, “false witnesses have risen against me.”) and was comfortless on the cross, He freed us from eternal death and comforts us even now in our suffering. Christ went through all of this – groaning, sighing, bleeding, dying, “last triumphant cry” (i.e. “It is finished) – FOR US. Thanks be to God for His suffering and death for our eternal life with Him!

ST. JOHN’S MUSIC ACADEMY “Meditatio” in Music

Among the other musical pieces and exercises for method instruction for their instruments, students at St. John’s Music Academy also learn from some of the greatest treasures of church music – our hymnody! Here is a snippet of the “meditatio” (a theologian’s meditation on God’s Word) that takes place during the lesson and while playing music:

Have you ever thought of how a hymn tune reflects the character of its hymn text? Both melody and rhythm are constructed in such a way to serve the words faithfully. In one student’s hymn, “Jesus Has Come and Brings Pleasure” (LSB 533), the melody dips down fairly low at different places in the hymn. It also jumps higher in places, especially phrases that brings out a certain word on that high note, such as “Jesus has come” at the end of every stanza. To accomplish our salvation, Christ became man and came to take our place in a lowly manner to suffer and die for us. From death to life He lifts us to Himself in glory and frees us from the bonds of sin and death. He is our “mighty Redeemer” which this hymn so wonderfully portrays in both text and tune.

We encourage all children of God to delight in His gift of music for us! For more information on SJMA, please contact Bethany Johnson (bjohnson@stjlcms.org or 469-400-4382) or visit our website: <https://stjohnlcmstopeka.org/learning/sjma/>

Inspiring passion for science is Joshua Grass' way of showing God's love

Standing by a greenhouse within his classroom Thursday, Topeka Lutheran teacher Joshua Grass holds up his 2023 Distinguished Teacher Award by KAIRS. Evert Nelson/The Capital-Journal

Above is a photo courtesy of the article found online at <https://www.cjonline.com/story/news/education/2023/02/28/topeka-lutheran-schools-joshua-grass-is-kairs-distinguished-teacher/69933192007/>

Congratulations to Josh Grass, a St. John's member, and teacher at Topeka Lutheran School. He recently received the KAIRS Distinguished Teacher Award for Lutheran Schools. The Topeka Capital Journal wrote a wonderful news article about him and shared details on his teaching at Topeka Lutheran School.

We greatly appreciate his devotion, care, and excellent work in Lutheran education. Mr. Grass has made a significant impact on children and families at TLS for the past five years, especially by teaching the faith and incorporating God's Word daily within the classroom.

Growing God's Children
for generations to come
Topeka Lutheran School

Dear Friends of TLS,

March 1, 2023

Four years ago, when we met in a classroom at Topeka Lutheran School (TLS) to start the planning for a capital campaign, there were feelings of excitement mixed with feelings of "can it be done?" Over the past four years, we have seen so much love and support for TLS, we never should have doubted that with God's help and guidance, we would wrap up the "Growing God's Children for Generations to Come" (GGC) with feelings of thankfulness and excitement for a better future for TLS.

We praise God for the amazing response to the GGC campaign. With your prayers and support, there have been:

- 125 donors who pledged a gift(s)
- $846,943 pledged
- $845,258 pledged gifts and $179,189 unpledged gifts received
- 62 new families/donors who responded with a gift(s)
- 36 TLS alum who responded with a gift(s)
- Two student walk-a-thons and alumni 5K events (42 alum participated/supported the 5K events)
- Eight corporate gifts/match gifts/memorial gifts received

With 12-31-2022 marking the end of this important effort, we reflect on the vision of the campaign which was shared with you over the past 36 months. This vision included working to solidify the fiscal health of TLS and the Foundation and to enhance the school campus and facilities. Through your generosity, the school debt to the Foundation has been retired in its entirety and the financial stability of the Foundation has been strengthened. In addition, there is a balance of $182,000 that will be used to make physical improvements to the building. These funds will be used to enhance security, add cameras, fencing, lighting, signage, landscaping and improve the security of the west entrance and office area. These improvements are planned to begin in 2023, and progress updates will be shared in the school and church newsletters.

With all this great news, there is still work to do. It is important that we continue to invest in TLS and support the Foundation to allow for long-term financial stability for the school, additional scholarships, increased educational opportunities, improvements to the playground area and parking lots, and critical facility maintenance. We pray that you continue your giving to TLS to help us build the Foundation, strengthen our school, and keep our nearly 150-year history of Lutheran education and academic excellence growing strong.

Thank you to all the many donors who have already made generous financial commitments to the future of Topeka Lutheran School. And thank you all for your prayers and your love and support for TLS. Please continue to pray for God to bless TLS and our families as we work together to grow God's children for generations to come.

God bless you!

PRAYER

Dear Father in Heaven: We come before You today with thankful hearts for all the blessings You shower on us here at Topeka Lutheran School. We do not deserve Your bountifulness since we constantly ignore Your Word and daily sin against not only You but our neighbors, our children and each other. As sinners, we are completely helpless to extract ourselves from this condition, but thanks be to You that You gave us the gift of Your Son, Jesus Christ who took our rightful place on the cross, died and rose again to assure our place in Heaven with You forever. For this we gratefully thank You and pray in Christ's Holy Name, Amen.

THE MISSION OF THE CHURCH

“Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you.” (Matthew 28:19–20a)
 So that we may obtain faith in Christ, God instituted the ministry of teaching the gospel and administering the sacraments. Through the gospel and sacraments, as through means, God gives the Holy Spirit who produces faith, where and when He wills, in those who hear the gospel. (Augsburg Confession, Article 5)
