

“Confessing the Faith through Music”

By Rev. Tim Frank

St. John the Baptist boldly gave witness to Christ, the Lamb of God, both in his preaching and in his death. Encouraged by his example, we pray that we also might fearlessly bear witness to Jesus. This witness happens not only through speech but also through the Church’s song. From the time of the Reformation, historic Lutherans have possessed a rich understanding of the place of music as a means of Gospel proclamation. Informed by our heritage, we will be encouraged by this presentation to make full and intentional use of music in the Church’s witness today.
